

The Remington-Cuba find the Autoloader always ready

REMINGTON-UMC

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUNS

ANY way you look at it, the Autoloader is the highest development in modern shotgun design. It puts five loads at your disposal by merely pressing the trigger. It puts the recoil to useful work—to eject the empty and slip in the fresh shell. It saves the gunner's shoulder—rids his sport of annoyances—increases his shooting average.

Your danger is that in your enthusiasm over the autoloading principle, you may forget to insist on getting the finest embodiment of that principle—the Remington-UMC Autoloading Shotgun.

The peculiar advantages of the Remington-UMC are too many to detail here. What you want to do is to get one of the Remington-UMC Autoloaders in this section to demonstrate them to you on the gun itself.

Omaha Daily Bee, 28th: Federal money aggregating more than $391,000 in the next few days will be pouring into the hands of the merchants of Winnebago, Neb., for 1,200 Indians on the reservation in Thurston county are to be paid an old claim that has lain in the federal treasury for years without attention. The Indians have contracted bills at the grocery stores and other business houses for years. "Now that the Indians are getting this money," said F. L. Gallagher of Resonance, "you can see merchants out on the reservation by the dozens chasing the Indians with old bills and trying to get them to turn over part of their money on the old debts." Each Indian of the Winnebago tribe will receive $317.90. There are said to be about 1,200. The money is the proceeds, with interest, of an old land sale by the Indians. Through some oversight, it has remained in the federal treasury at Washington for years until some of the congressmen got to looking into the matter and found out the Indians were entitled to this. "These apportionments from the federal government come rarely nowadays to either the Omaha or Winnebago tribes, who live on adjoining reservations in northeastern Nebraska. The federal government has practically left them to shift for themselves with their land holdings. Most of them have rented their land to white farmers and are living in small shacks on the edge of some small tract of ground. Most of them do not even work a garden spot any more, nor do many of them raise the little patch of corn for their ponies, as they used to do in the old days before the coming of the pale-faces."

Christensen, Mrs. A. C. Hansen and L. Bogg were guests in the C. M. Rasmussen home Monday.

Why we handle The FAVORITE

Being a Story of How we Were Convinced

First, we were attracted by the handsome appearance of the Favorite, but we did not decide to handle it for this reason alone, although we decided it was the most handsome base burner on the market.

We wanted a better reason than an attractive looking stove, so we looked it over thoroughly, comparing it point by point with other base burners, and this is what we found:

The material from which it is made is all of the highest grades—the doors, mica frames and joints being absolutely air and paper tight.

We were told the Favorite produced the most satisfactory results with about half as much coal as other base burners. We discovered this to be true. We found the reason to be in its Triple Exposed Flues.

The sectional cut herewith explains these flues better than we can in words. The heat passes from the fire pot into the two outside down flues, across the bottom of the stove, under the ash pan, where it enters the central flue. It then passes back over the bottom and up the central flue to the chimney. Just think of this great radiating surface, and it is more than doubled, because the flues are SET OUT from the back of the stove. The flues therefore radiate from all sides, and the back of the stove radiates heat, also. This feature alone places the Favorite in a class by itself, making it the best and most economical heating stove in existence. But other features of its construction must not be overlooked. Would like to tell you all about them.

Do not put off buying your heating stove until the cold days come. Come and see us now, and our Favorite will be your Favorite too.

Homer Star: Margaret Ashford left on Wednesday for Milwaukee, Wis., where she will enter school. Benette Green, of Sioux City, spent several days the past week at the T. J. O'Connor home. Mary Ashford leaves today for Sinsinawa, Wis., to enter one of the leading schools at that place. Rev. Christie and wife returned to their home at Long Beach, Cal., on Monday, after a week's visit here with friends. E. H. Wiken left on Monday for a two weeks' vacation and his first stop will be at Sutton, Neb., to visit relatives. W. A. Morgan, from Omaha, has taken Mr. Wiken's place at the depot. Will Maney and his hired man drove down fourteen head of horses from Stanley county, S. D., one day last week and took them to the John Harris farm. These horses are of his own raising. Mrs. Maney came by train last Friday, and these people will visit relatives for a short time. Charles Bristol, of Charter Oak, Ia., dropped into Homer one day last week and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bristol. Charley is working for the Northwestern railroad company and is making good with that company. He left home about six months ago and it was his first visit since he left. He also paid us the necessary sum for the Star, which will make him weekly visits. We were informed last week by Garret Mason that his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. Mason, who moved to California several months ago, will come back to Homer to live and take up their residence in their same old home. The California climate don't seem to agree with Mrs. Mason's health, and besides they have a feeling for old Homer. In most cases it proves that old time Homer residents want to come back and do come back. They are welcome back to the best big little town on earth. The body of O. O. Lane, of Oto, Ia., was shipped to Homer on Tuesday for burial. The services were held in the afternoon from the Assembly church, conducted by Rev. Harman, of that church. Interment was made in Omaha Valley cemetery. It is alleged that O. O. Lane died from the result of a fall down a flight of stairs at the hotel in Sioux City last Saturday. He was taken to one of the local hospitals, where he remained a day. John W. Robinson, a switchman, is charged with the death of Lane. It is said that he is the cause of Lane's falling down the stairs and is held on a charge of murder in the first degree. The two men engaged in a fight in the hallway at the hotel and Lane was either pushed or knocked down the stairs by Robinson. O. O. Lane was at one time a resident of Blyburg, leaving here about sixteen years ago. He was married to one of S. Curtis' daughters, who lived in Blyburg at that time, but later was divorced. He leaves to mourn his loss an aged mother, Mrs. Rebecca Bureau, of Winnebago, Neb.; four brothers, M. D. and Lafe, of Yankton, S. D.; David Lane, of Winnebago, and Leigh Lane, of Council Bluffs, Ia., and three sisters, Mrs. Brewer, of Yankton; Mrs. DeBode, of Montana, and Mrs. Jessie Ronger, of Winnebago.
